

A Special Thank You to our Newspaper In Education Sponsors

...FOR MAKING A REAL EDUCATIONAL DIFFERENCE IN OUR CHILDREN'S FUTURE

Their generous contributions help provide teachers with free newspapers and curriculum resources for classroom instruction.

SPONSORS

✍ Engraving & Printing FCU

✍ Saturn of Silver Spring

✍ Passport BMW - Infiniti -
Nissan - Chrysler

✍ Springfield Toyota

✍ Pentagon Federal
Credit Union

✍ The Appalachian Trail
Conference

•Andale

•Crouch & Crouch,
Attorneys at Law

•High Performance Cycles.com

•Ascot Indian /
Continental Cuisine

•DC Credit Union League

•Jack's Boathouse

•Austin Grill

•Dr. Fuentes

•KLJ Network Services

•Banducci's Restaurant

•Dubliner Irish Restaurant & Pub

•Margaret Smith Gallery

•Bobby Van's Steakhouse

•Eagle Bank

•Nu Yu Salon & Spa

•Bullfeathers of Capitol Hill

•Eddie Leonard Carryout

•Pinckney-Spangler
Funeral Home

•Burns, Doane, Swecker,
& Mathis, LLP

•El Tamarindo Restaurant

•Robert O. Freeman
Funeral Services, Inc.

•Café Mozart / German Deli

•Franklin Covey Store

•Sugar House Day Spa & Salon

•Café Olé

•Hall Brothers Funeral Home

•The Law Firm of Speiser Krause

•College Park Honda

•Unique Appliance Service

The Washington Times is a strong believer in the importance of education. That's why we developed CLASS ACT— a K-12 program designed to provide teachers throughout the Washington metropolitan area with educational resources for classroom use. CLASS ACT puts emphasis on: Character Education, Literacy, Academic Excellence, Service Learning, Skills for Life, and Actions that Make a Positive Difference. CLASS ACT awards grants to 250 schools covering distribution of nearly 2 million newspapers each year as well as thousands of teacher guides and supplements. On a representative school day, we distribute 10,000 copies of the newspaper to schools. The Washington Times underwrites 75 percent of CLASS ACT program costs. Much of the balance comes from contributions from sponsors. They make it possible for us to conduct this program. For more information about our NIE program contact: Doug Alexander, Educational Services Manager (202) 636-4847, dalexander@washingtontimes.com Visit our web page at: www.washtimes.com/education